This book is respectfully dedicated to the memory of

Andrew Grover DuMez

whose outstanding abilities as an educator and scientist placed this school in a position of prominence in Pharmacy.

Andrew Grover DuMez was born in Hornican, Wisconsin, April 26th, 1885. He was educated in Wisconsin, receiving the degree of Ph.G. (1904), B.S. (1907), M.S. (1910), and Ph.D. (1917), from the University of Wisconsin. In 1912 he was appointed Director of the School of Pharmacy of the University of the Philippines at Manila, where he was chiefly responsible for organizing and building the Philippine School of Pharmacy and for revising the laws governing drugs and the practice of pharmacy on the Islands.

On his return to this country, he was engaged by the U. S. Public Health Service at Washington, D. C., and in 1918 was appointed Secretary of a committee to investigate the traffic in narcotics. While still in the service of the Government, he attended the Second International Conference on Drugs, which met in Brussels, Belgium, in 1925, as an official delegate from the United States.

When Dr. E. F. Kelly resigned as Dean of the School of Pharmacy, Dr. DuMez was appointed in 1926 to the deanship. For more than twenty years, until his death, Dr. DuMez directed the affairs of the school and taught his students with enthusiasm and ability possessed by few men. By his efforts the School of Pharmacy was maintained and advanced its position of leadership in this country.

One of his first problems as Dean, was the construction of a new building to house the school. In 1927 the Legislature appropriated over $500,000 to build and equip the building occupied at present, and Dr. DuMez gave much of his attention to planning and outfitting the new building. His experiences in Manila stood him in good stead. With the exception of the Dental Clinic he was in large measure responsible for the new school which was considered a model institution of its kind. While the building was in progress, he spent much of his time on the premises personally advising and checking every detail. With justifiable pride he opened the first session of the school in its new quarters in January, 1930. For eighteen years this building has served its purpose well.

With the school functioning in the new building, Dean DuMez occupied himself with the problem which was always uppermost in his mind, that of pharmaceutical education. Beginning in 1932, students were required to complete four years of college work to receive the Bachelor of Science degree in Pharmacy, and to become eligible for registration as a pharmacist. Lengthening the course to four years greatly increased the kind and amount of instruction and necessitated a revision of the curriculum and selection of additional teachers. The pharmaceutical profession in Maryland owes much to Dean DuMez for his great acumen in this task.

Dean DuMez realized that there were many students who possessed the ability to do postgraduate work and who should be permitted the opportunity to work for advanced degrees. To this end he instituted courses in the School of Pharmacy which were accepted by the Graduate School of the University as fulfilling the requirements for the M.S. and Ph.D. degrees. As a result, the pharmaceutical manufacturing houses, schools of pharmacy, government laboratories, and other institutions all over the country were soon looking to Maryland for research workers, teachers, and men to fill responsible positions for which a higher education is necessary. Many of those who now hold positions as Directors of Research or Deans of Faculties, can thank Dr. DuMez for his policy of including postgraduate work in the curriculum of the school.

Dr. DuMez was very active in pharmaceutical societies in the state and nation. He was member ex-officio, of the Executive Committee and Chairman of the Committees on Resolutions of the Maryland Pharmaceutical Association, Secretary on Medical Care of the Maryland State Department of Health, and interested in many other State organizations. Dr. DuMez brought much honor to the State of Maryland by his national activities in the pharmaceutical field. He was a member of the U.S.P. Revision Committee, President of the American Pharmaceutical Association (1939-40), President of the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy, and Secretary-Treasurer of the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education. In 1942 he was appointed consultant to the War Manpower Commission and was a member of the Government's Committee on the Status of Pharmacists in Government Service. He was very active as Vice Chairman of the Pharmaceutical Survey, which deals with pharmacy in all its aspects. His work brought to him and to the state the most coveted award the profession has to offer—the Remington Medal. Arrangements were being made by the New York Branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association for presentation of the medal on November 17th, 1948. Dr. DuMez was taken ill suddenly on Sunday, September 26th, while attending a conference of the Pharmaceutical Survey in Washington, D. C., and passed away the following morning.

It is impossible to write about Dr. DuMez without emphasizing the part of Mrs. DuMez in making his life and work a success. For thirty-six years she shared his aspirations and was an intimate partner in his undertakings.

The Remington Medal

For his contributions to pharmacy, Andrew Grover DuMez was named the 26th recipient of the Remington Medal. The honor is conferred upon the person whose work during the preceding year, or culminating over a period of years, is judged most important to American pharmacy by the Committee on Award, which consists of past presidents of the American Pharmaceutical Association. In announcing the selection of Dr. DuMez, the Committee indicated that this distinction was conferred "specifically as a recognition of his services as Secretary of the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education," although "his general prominence in the fields of education and research also qualify him as a recipient of the medal."

THE GOVERNOR'S MESSAGE

I am happy again to have the opportunity, through the Terra Mariae, to extend to the graduates of the University of Maryland School of Pharmacy, my best wishes for a successful career in their chosen profession.

The men and women who are trained in this exacting science at the University of Maryland are splendidly equipped to take their places in the professional life of the community. It is a matter of pride with the State of Maryland that it is able to offer to the young men and women such an opportunity

MESSAGE OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNIVERSITY

Some years ago the Pharmacy School of the University of Maryland had its home in what had previously been a small church building on the opposite side of the street from the location it now occupies. Under Dean DuMez, who has passed into the great beyond, the school grew from this humble beginning to become one of the best in the country. Dean DuMez has left with us a heritage that we must protect. It should be the resolve of the class that graduates this year to preserve in its keeping this heritage and to do its utmost to see that the University of Maryland Pharmacy School continues its upward drive. It must maintain its high standard of undergraduate study and must continue to delve into that border land from which new knowledge is obtained. It must hold its relationship on a high plane with the pharmaceutical industry of the state and with the drug interests of the state, and must continue to play its part in the American Pharmaceutical Association's national endeavors.

The University of Maryland Pharmacy School has had a distinguished past but it faces an ever more distinguished future. Let us all resolve to pull together toward that end.

H. C. BYRD, President.

B. Olive Cole
Acting Dean of the School of Pharmacy

Message From The Dean

It is with great pleasure that I have the opportunity to express to you, in writing, my congratulations upon your having successfully completed the course in pharmacy. Many opportunities will be open to you and I know that you will take full advantage of them. Especially should you take pride in the fact that your education has been of the type which evidences a desire on your part to dedicate yourselves to a lifetime of service in the field of public health.

You have a responsibility to society, and I know that you will fulfill that responsibility ably, efficiently, and with honor to yourselves and to the School of Pharmacy.

B. Olive Cole,
Acting Dean.

Charles Emile Dohme

Charls Emile Dohme was born at Obernkirchen, Schaumburg, Germany, on March 12th, 1843, and came to this country with his parents in 1851. Mr. Dohme graduated from the Maryland College of Pharmacy, and subsequently took positions as clerk in several Baltimore pharmacies. In 1866, he was admitted as a partner in the firm of Sharp and Dohme, and by his extreme resourcefulness helped raise the firm to a position of prominence in the drug trade. Mr. Dohme took a deep interest in his former college, and in 1896 was elected president of the college, serving one year. He also strongly supported the various pharmaceutical organizations, serving as president of the local branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association and as chairman of the Board of Trustees of the United States Pharmacopoeial Convention in addition to many other positions of prominence. Mr. Dohme was also active socially, counting the Germania Club and the Oratorio Society among his many activities. He died on December 9th, 1911, after a life of interest and honor in the local and national aspects of pharmacy.

The School

In the entire field of American pharmacy, throughout the decades of its existence, no one has presented the many-faceted talents that were present in one man—William Procter, Jr. Procter's prodigious works covered such a vast field that it is difficult to explain why posterity has not attached his name to some specific discovery. He pioneered with ether, he was one of the first to discover the salicylates of natural origin. Indeed, he, like other such scientists, had pioneered in a hundred such ways. Procter's name will live forever, not for any single achievement, but because of the mastery that he gave to all his work. His works entitled for him a full right to the designation "Father of American Pharmacy."

The His
The School

1877 - 1886

The need of an institution where apprentices in pharmacy could be given systematic instruction in the sciences underlying their profession had long been felt by leading pharmacists and physicians, when in 1841 a charter was obtained from the General Assembly for the Maryland College of Pharmacy. The incorporators, seventeen in number, and among whom were Messrs. George M. Andrews, Thomas G. Mackenzie, B. Rush Roberts, Robert Coleman, and Dr. David Stewart, immediately organized and established courses of instruction in chemistry, pharmacy, and materia medica. These men carried on the work of the college until 1847, when, owing to the death of some members and change of business of others, they were compelled to suspend all lectures. During the period of operation, however, they graduated a number of eminent pharmacists, to whose efforts in resuscitating and reorganizing the college in 1856 much is due. Among the older graduates appear the names of Messrs. Frederick A. Cochrane, Alpheus P. Sharp, William Thompson, Samuel Rodgers, J. Faris Moore, John W. Read, and Christian Steinhofer. Of these, Messrs. Alpheus P. Sharp and William S. Thompson were not only earnest and active supporters of the College, but were adornments to the profession they represented, as well as graduates of whom their Alma Mater might well be proud.

In 1856 at the request of the graduates and a number of Baltimore pharmacists, the president, Mr. George W. Andrews, called a meeting which resulted in the election of thirty-one new members, and a thorough reorganization of the College. The new Board of Trustees established three professorships: Dr. Lewis Steiner was elected Professor of Chemistry; Dr. Charles P. Frick, Professor of Materia Medica; and Israel Grahame, Professor of Pharmacy. A course of lectures was given during the season 1857-1858 to a class of intelligent and appreciative students, and the College took a new lease on life, which has since been maintained.

Dr. David Stewart gave the lectures in pharmacy during the period 1841-1846. Following the reorganization, the chair of Pharmacy was filled by Professor Israel J. Grahame, who was succeeded by Mr. P. Phillips, an earnest and interesting instructor. The sudden death of Professor Phillips caused the election of J. Faris Moore to the vacancy. Professor Moore was one of the older graduates of the College, and was a consistent and zealous worker in behalf of his Alma Mater and in the interest of pharmacy, until his death. He continued in the chair of pharmacy for nineteen years, when, on resignation of the chair of Materia Medica by Professor Baxley, he was chosen Professor of Materia Medica. Then on March 8, 1879, Dr. Charles C. Caspari, Jr., who was later to play such an important part in the history of the Maryland College of Pharmacy, was elected Professor of Pharmacy, which chair he continued to fill until his death on October 13, 1917. He was succeeded by Dr. Evander F. Kelly, class of 1902, who held the professor-tory of

ship until January, 1926, when it was taken over by Dr. John C. Krantz, Jr., class of 1919, who held it for one year. Andrew G. DuMez, Ph.G., B.S., M.S., Ph.D., then held the professorship until his death.

Mr. William E. A. Aiken was lecturer in chemistry from 1841-1846. From 1856 the professorship of chemistry was filled for a number of years by Dr. Louis Steiner. On his departure from the city he was succeeded by Professor Alfred Mayer, who afterwards moved to New York, and he was in turn succeeded by a graduate of the College, Dr. Helsby, who remained a few years and then entered upon the practice of medicine. The chair was then occupied by Dr. De-Rosset, a man of great ability and a popular lecturer. Upon his resignation in 1873, the Board of Trustees elected the able and energetic Professor William Simon, Ph.D., M.D., to fill the vacancy. Daniel Base, Ph.D., became associated with Dr. Simon in 1895, and was elected Professor of Chemistry in 1902, which position he held until his resignation in 1920 to become associated with Hynson, Wescott and Dunning. The teaching of the basic courses in chemistry has been under the direction of the Department of Chemistry of the University of Maryland. In 1936 Glenn L. Jenkins, Ph.D., Professor of Pharmaceutical Chemistry since 1927, resigned to accept a similar position in the School of Pharmacy of the University of Minnesota. Walter H. Hartung, A.B., Ph.D., who had been research chemist for Sharp and Dohme for a decade, headed the department until leaving for a like post at the University of North Carolina. Dr. George P. Hager, B.S., M.S., Ph.D., now occupies the chair.

Messrs. David Stewart and William S. Reese were the lecturers in Materia Medica 1844-1846. Dr. Charles P. Frick was elected Professor of Materia Medica June 5, 1856, and on April 17, 1858, Professor Frick, having been called to the chair of Materia Medica in the old University of Maryland School of Medicine, was succeeded by Professor Frank Donaldson, M.D. Like his predecessor, he was called to a professorship in the University of Maryland. He was succeeded by Professor J. R. Winslow, in 1863, and the latter, on June 1, 1866, by Claude Baxley, M.D., who ably filled the position until 1879, when declining health caused him to sever his connection with the College. He, in turn, was followed by J. Faris Moore, M.D., who continued in this chair until his sudden death on February 3, 1888, when Dr. David M. R. Culbreth was elected to succeed him. Dr. Culbreth, who had always been an ardent worker for his Alma Mater, ably and efficiently filled the professorship until June 10, 1920, when he resigned from active duty and became Professor Emeritus. Dr. Charles C. Plitt of the class of 1891 served as Professor of Botany and Pharmacognosy until his death in 1933. Associate Professor Frank J. Slama, who is an alumnus of the school and who received the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Maryland was appointed to head the department in 1936.

Great advances have been made in the profession of pharmacy since 1856, and it has been found necessary to enlarge the curriculum from time to time to keep abreast of this progress. In the broadening of its curriculum, the school has been guided largely by the standards set by the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy. In 1913, courses in pharmaceutical arithmetic, pharmaceutical Latin, and pharmaceutical law were added. The course in commercial pharmacy has been expanded, and since all work of this nature has been given by the department of economics. This department is presided over by Miss B. Olive Cole, Phar.D., LL.B., who is also Professor of Pharmaceutical Law.

In 1921, the curriculum was further broadened to include the general education subjects: English, romance languages, algebra, trigonometry, zoology, and physics. In the same year provisions were made for teaching bacteriology. Since then a separate department was in charge of Assistant Professor H. Bryan, V.M.D., B.S., M.A. In 1937 Associate Professor Thomas C. Grubb, A.B., Ph.D., was appointed to head the department, resigning in 1945. Associate Professor Donald E. Shay, B.S., M.S., Ph.D., is the present head of the department.

In 1930, a department of pharmacology was organized in the school to give instruction in bio-assaying. The equipment of this department and its maintenance were made possible through the generosity of the late Captain Isaac E. Emerson, who endowed it liberally. In 1938 Marvin R. Thompson, Ph.D., Emerson Professor of Pharmacology since 1930, resigned to accept the Directorship of the Warner Institute of Therapeutic Research. Clifford W. Chapman, Ph.D., who had been with the Laboratory of Hygiene, Department of Pensions and National Health in Canada, which department is in charge of drug control in the Dominion, and in which he held the position of pharmacologist, is now the present head of the department.

Following the reorganization of the Maryland College of Pharmacy in 1856, control was vested in the offices of the College President, first and second Vice-Presidents, Treasurer, and Secretary, who, together with the Board of Examiners (three members) constituted the Board of Trustees. The first president was Mr. Thomas G. Mackenzie, 1840-1842, followed by Mr. Benjamin Rush Roberts from 1844 to 1871, and was followed in succession by such illustrious pharmacists as Dr. J. Brown Baxley, Dr. J. Faris Moore, Dr. John F. Hancock, Dr. Joseph Roberts, Dr. Edwin Eareckson, Mr. William S. Thompson, Mr. Louis Dohme, and Mr. Charles Dohme (1894-1904). In 1904, it became a department of the State University, when the old University of Maryland was merged with the Maryland State College. With this last merger, control was transferred to the officers of the University. The control of the University of Maryland is now vested in the Board of Regents, of which W. P. Cole, Jr., is chairman. A Faculty Council, composed of the Dean and certain members of the Faculty control the internal affairs of each separate school comprising the University.

Dr. Charles C. Caspari, Jr., became Dean of the Maryland College of Pharmacy in 1896, and continued as Dean after the merger of the College with the old University of Maryland, until his death on October 13, 1917. Dr. Daniel Base succeeded him, but because of conditions incident to the World War, Dr. Base obtained leave of absence to teach in another department, and Dr. Evander Kelly was elected Dean on September 30, 1918. This office was held by Dr. Kelly until December 31, 1925, when he became Secretary of the American Pharmaceutical Association. Dr. Andrew G. DuMez then assumed the responsibilities of the office, and performed them with great ability until his recent death. Miss B. Olive Cole is at present the acting dean of the college.

When the institution was first chartered in 1841, the lectures were given in the amphitheater of the University of Maryland. Following the reorganization in 1856, and until 1876, the College occupied halls rented for the purpose. In the early part of the latter year, the city grammar school located on Aisquith Street near Fayette Street was purchased and after radical, but needed changes, the College occupied what was then considered a very commodious home. However, as classes began to increase, the need was felt for more and better facilities, and in 1886, a new building was erected on the old site. This building was fitted with the then-most-modern in scientific appliances, and was well stocked with the necessary apparatus, materials and specimens. The College continued to occupy these quarters until it became the Department of Pharmacy of the University of Maryland, in 1904. At the present time the School of Pharmacy is located in the new Pharmacy and Dental Building at Lombard and Greene Streets, which building was made possible by an appropriation from the State of Maryland during the legislative session of 1929.

The new building is a realization of a great need for adequate quarters in which to teach the honored profession of Pharmacy in Maryland. Everyone interested in Pharmacy may well be proud of this splendid building, as well as of the modern equipment and apparatus which has been provided for demonstration and teaching purposes.

From the foregoing it will be seen that the School of Pharmacy of the University of Maryland, which began its existence as the Maryland College of Pharmacy, has exercised its functions as a teaching institution since 1841 except for the ten-year period 1846 to 1856. In spite of its vicissitudes it has steadily borne itself onward and upward. It has steadily increased and improved its facilities to enable it to impart instruction in keeping with the pharmaceutical knowledge of the times. It was the first institution of its kind to establish a professorship of Pharmacy, and thereby allocate to that branch of learning an individuality of its own. It was also one of the first schools to make analytical chemistry obligatory for graduation. In still other lines its leadership has been manifest, particularly in the textbooks published by members of its teaching staff. The result has been a steady growth in size and influence so that the school now holds a position in the front ranks of the teaching institutions of its kind in this country.

Dr. Henry Parr Hynson

Henry Parr Hynson was born on a farm near Still Pond, Kent County, Maryland, on May 27th, 1855. He entered the Maryland College of Pharmacy and was graduated in 1877 at the head of his class. After operating two retail stores of his own, Dr. Hynson established with J. W. Westcott the firm that was to become famous as Hynson, Westcott, and Dunning. Dr. Hynson was extremely active in pharmaceutical circles and held many positions of honor. He was president of the Maryland Pharmaceutical Association, the first president and a chief organizer of the National Association of Retail Druggists, and the president of the American Conference of Pharmaceutical Faculties now the American Association of Colleges of Pharmacy, to list but a few of his many offices. Dr. Hynson also was a member of the faculty of the Maryland University, Department of Pharmacy for many years. He was also much interested in civic work and took part in several organizations for civic improvement, serving with cheerfulness and enthusiasm. Death came to Henry P. Hynson on April 19th, 1921, ending a life of interest and usefulness in pharmacy.

There's a history of your city that you'll never see, written in a language strange to most people—the language of prescriptions. On nearly every page the pharmacist tells the story of an important hour in the life of some family of your town. What kind of person is this about whom so much of any community's life revolves? He doesn't have an easy time of it—he had to study long and hard to become a pharmacist, and he has to work long and hard to remain one. Still, there are rewards—the chance to alleviate human suffering; the opportunity to have a part in saving human life; the gratitude of the thinking members of his community.

Class President's Message

Fellow Graduates:

Having successfully completed the technical training required for the practice of pharmacy, we are about to step out of the protective security of university life into a greater, more challenging life. I feel that we are amply prepared to meet that challenge. Our college has given us the best possible training; our profession offers us limitless opportunity for achievement. May all of us perform our duty well, attain our respective goals, and reflect credit upon this school and upon the profession of pharmacy.

FOR ALL HE TOUCHES
TURNS TO GOLD
MARYLAND
PHARMACISTS

Isaac Edward Emerson

Isaac Edward Emerson was born in Chapel Hill, North Carolina, July 24th, 1859. He attended the University of North Carolina, and was graduated as a chemist in 1879. A year later he came to Baltimore and opened a small drug store in the northwest section of the city. Success in this endeavor led to the founding of the Emerson Drug Company, which soon became nationwide in its scope. Mr. Emerson became a powerful figure in drug manufacturing. He served as president of the Citro Chemical Works of America, chairman of the American Bromine Company, and was the controlling owner of the Maryland Glass Corporation. Mr. Emerson's business interests spread even beyond pharmacy. He built the Emerson Hotel in Baltimore, acquired large real estate holdings outside of the city, and became a director of many banking institutions. Isaac Emerson always valued his pharmaceutical interests uppermost, however, and he gave long and valuable service to the American Pharmaceutical Association.

Captain Isaac E. Emerson endowed the School of Pharmacy in 1927 with stock of the drug company to provide an annual income to establish and maintain a chair in Biological Testing and Drug Assaying. He died on January 23rd, 1931.

The Undergraduates

In 1849, all orderly life in California was turned topsy-turvy by the discovery of gold. Through it all, however, a newly arrived young man named Justin Gates remained unmoved. He preferred to keep on compounding drugs in his little Sacramento pharmacy. Suddenly, there came news of sickness and suffering in the mining camps, news of doctors valiantly fighting without sufficient drugs. Soon, rumbling into the remote, stricken mining villages came pharmacies on wheels, equipped by Gates with the necessary drugs and with competent pharmacists. And as the battle against disease was won, doctors and miners alike blessed the name of Gates.

The story of Justin Gates, pharmacist, is worth remembering, for it must serve to illustrate the unchanging ideals of his profession.

Dr. Evander Francis Kelly

Dr. E. F. Kelly was born in Carthage, North Carolina, on July 2nd, 1879. He received the degree of Doctor of Pharmacy from the University of Maryland in 1902. Dr. Kellyl immediately became active in the field of pharmaceutical education, serving as a faculty member of this school from 1903 to 1926. He was appointed Dean of the School of Pharmacy in 1918 and held that post until 1926, when he resigned to accept the secretaryship of the American Pharmaceutical Association. Among his many prominent positions in pharmacy were chairman of the Board of the United States Pharmacopoeia, secretary-treasurer of the National Drug Trade Conference, and president of the American Council on Pharmaceutical Education. Dr. Kelly was the author of many articles on science and pharmacy and of a leading textbook on the subject. In recognition of his contributions to pharmacy, he was unanimously awarded the Remington Medal, the highest award of the profession, in 1933. His broad experience and his ability as an organizer made Dr. Kelly one of the outstanding leaders of pharmacy. Death ended his career on October 27th, 1944.

John Morgan was a distinguished physician and surgeon, but above all a perfectionist. To the volunteer medical corps of the little Continental army he applied his genius for organization. But his striving for perfection didn't stop there; it led him to the conclusion that prescriptions should be compounded by men who had made the science of drugs their lifework. So John Morgan became a crusader. He preached the doctrine of pharmacy as a separate profession, and although he did not live to see his ambitions realized, he sowed the seed. Soon pharmacy became an important, specialized work in the community, and his name was given a place of honor in the history of American pharmacy.

DR. H. A. B. DUNNING
Honorary President of the Alumni Association

The association of Dr. Dunning with the profession began with his first employment by George & Redden, Druggists, in his native town of Denton, Md. At an early age, Dr. Dunning moved to Baltimore where he worked for Downes Brothers, Druggists. In 1894 he joined the firm of Hynson, Westcott and Company with which he has been continually associated for more than half a century. In 1901 Dr. Dunning acquired a part interest in Hynson, Westcott and Company. Eleven years later he became Active Director of the Company, and in 1930 Dr. Dunning became sole owner and president of the Company, then incorporated as Hynson, Westcott & Dunning and for the past three years has served as Chairman of the Board of Directors.

Dr. Dunning studied pharmacy at the Maryland College of Pharmacy, from which he graduated in 1897. Following his service with the 4th U. S. Volunteers in Cuba in the Spanish-American war, he undertook post-graduate work in chemistry at the Johns Hopkins University, and became Associate Professor of Chemistry in the School of Pharmacy at the University of Maryland. Dr. Dunning undertook cooperative research investigations at the Johns Hopkins University, Hospital, and Medical School, which have resulted in the production of Phenolsulphonphthalein, Mercurochrome, and other original compounds and products which have become important in therapeutics.

Dr. Dunning has played a most active and vital part in the development of professional pharmacy and of the American Pharmaceutical Association, through the magnanimous contributions of his time, service, and financial aid. He has continually served the American Pharmaceutical Association locally and nationally, has been a member of the Council, and later was President of the Association. Dr. Dunning served as Chairman of the Building Site Committee, and Chairman of the Building Committee, and it is largely due to the efforts and financial contributions of Dr. Dunning that Pharmacy has today as its permanent headquarters the beautiful American Institute of Pharmacy in Washington, D. C. In 1948 Dr. Dunning contributed the flagstaff of the Headquarters Building as a memorial to all pharmacists who have served their country in wartime.

The philanthropies of Dr. Dunning have been manifold and he has contributed generously to numerous worthwhile American endeavors. It has been his practice to give 15% of his annual income to charitable purposes. He is the donor of an Organic Chemistry Laboratory in the University of Maryland, and the founder of the first scholarships of pharmacy in the United States. Since 1930 he has contributed $1000.00 annually to maintain a research fellowship in pharmaceutical chemistry in the School of Pharmacy.

In 1926, Dr. Dunning was awarded the Remington Medal in recognition of his outstanding contributions to pharmacy. He has also been granted a number of honorary degrees, notably Master of Pharmacy by the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science, Doctor of Pharmacy by the University of Maryland, Doctor of Science by the University of Maryland, and Doctor of Laws by the Johns Hopkins University.

Alumni Association

Organized on May 15th, 1871, The Society of the Maryland College of Pharmacy maintained itself as such, or as the Alumni Association of the Maryland College of Pharmacy until 1907, when the General Association of the University of Maryland was formed. The Society then remained dormant until June 4th, 1926, when it was reestablished as The Alumni Association of the School of Pharmacy of the University of Maryland. Since its reactivation it has displayed a keen interest in School activities, and lists an annual smoker in its program of fostering cooperation between the students and alumni. Each year it is more evident that interest in the Alumni Association is not only maintained, but is continually growing stronger.

THE PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

On behalf of myself and the other officers of the Alumni Association, I wish to take this opportunity to congratulate the members of the graduating class of 1949. Your chosen profession is rich in tradition and opportunities, and I sincerely hope that whatever phase of pharmacy you choose to follow, you will attain ultimate success and happiness.

The Alumni Association invites you to become one of its members. It is the purpose of the Alumni to work closely with the School of Pharmacy and its student body. We strive to maintain the School's fine record and standing scholastically, at the same time providing social activity for both students and alumni. Your support is needed to carry on our work, and we solicit your support in the spirit of progress of our profession.

Organized on April 7th, 1926, the Student Council of the School of Pharmacy is a representative group composed of three members from each of the four classes. Its purpose is a supervision of the social and athletic activities of the school. It attempts to encourage and foster in the student body a friendly and wholesome spirit which will reflect honor on the splendid traditions of the University.

The Student Council has been an instrument for the development of harmony and cooperation between the student body and the faculty. It has sought to instill in each student a feeling of fellowship and a desire to conduct himself honestly, fairly, and courteously at all times, whether within the University or without its walls. The liberal policy which has characterized its supervision of the extracurricular activities has met with the general approval and cooperation of the student body.

THE EDITOR'S MESSAGE

The Terra Mariae is in part a book of the present, illustrating our more pleasant relations with our professors, serializing our progress from the freshman to the senior years. More completely, however, it is a book of the future preserving for our more relaxed later lives the pleasures of remembering our friends and ourselves as once we were. The memories embodied in the making are the memories we shall cherish forever.

Only through the aid and cooperation of every member of the School, especially that of Acting Dean B. Olive Cole, Dr. Frank J. Slama, Dr. Adele Ballman, and Mr. Sidney Schultz, printer's representative, was the printing of this book made possible. To them we express our deepest appreciation.

The Year In Review

The Fraternity's national convention was held in Washington, D. C., at the Hotel Statler during July 14th to 18th of the past summer, and Kappa Chapter was represented by a large delegation.

The first local social event of the past season was a smoker held at the Fraternity House in early October which resulted in the pledging of a number of men.

On November 21st, A.Z.O.'s Regional meetings were held in Baltimore at the Lord Baltimore Hotel. On the evening of the same date, the annual banquet was held at the Dubonet Room of the Community Hall. This was the most successful, and certainly the most elaborate affair that Kappa has put on.

This year Kappa Chapter sponsored a series of scientific and educational lectures which were given by prominent speakers. These lectures were well attended, and a continuance of the series is planned for the future.

A theater party at the Vagabond Theater was held on April 7th, and a large crowd was in attendance.

Kappa is looking forward to 1950 when it will be the host for the Fraternity's national convention. Kappa Chapter promises the most entertaining convention in the history of the fraternity.

Chapter Activities

My how we grew! With a nucleus of twenty men returning to school, Beta Chapter was well prepared to face the coming social year. Early in September, a smoker, which proved to be the largest and most successful ever, was held. The purpose of this smoker was not only to pledge new men for the fraternity, but also to "repledge" the graduate members of Phi Alpha back into the folds of Beta Chapter. A pledge class of 16 was started, and on October 17th was initiated into Beta. Also, many graduates became active again. The success of the smoker and of the pledge class was largely due to the acquisition of our Fraternity House at 106 E. Madison St.

A Program Dance was held on December 12th at Cadoa Hall, which proved to be highly successful, both socially and financially.

The National Convention of all the chapters of Phi Alpha was held on December 31st, January 1st and 2nd, at Washington, D.C.

The annual Tri-Frat Dance was held on February 5th, in conjunction with Alpha Zeta Omega and Phi Delta Chi. As usual, the dance was a fine success.

The most important event of the year was the annual Founders' Day affair. The chapter celebrated its 33rd anniversary on February 19th with a formal dinner-dance at the Southern Hotel.

Several affairs were held during the Spring, bringing to a close a most successful social season.

Chapter Activities

Iota Chapter ushered in its social season with the annual Smoker. Several weeks later an informal Pledge Dance was given for the future fraters.

The initiation ceremony took place on November 5th with the induction of 14 new members.

The Arundel Boat Club was the scene of Iota's Annual Founders' Day Dance. A gala occasion and a huge success.

At the Alumni Smoker, Iota won the inter-fraternity competition for the best entertainment and was awarded the Cherry Acivity Cup.

A Christmas Party with Santa Claus et al gave the members a jolly send-oll to their Christmas vacations.

The annual Tri-Frat Dance was held on February 5th, in conjunction with Alpha Zeta Omega and Phi Alpha. The dance was a tremendous success.

Other highlights of the year included the Annual Spring Formal and Banquet in honor of the graduating members of the fraternity. In addition, several formal meetings were held with prominent guest speakers.

CONGRATULATIONS

To those fraternity officers and members who are graduating, the Phi Delta Chi extends its congratulations, and wishes them a successful career in pharmacy.

It is onr sincere hope that each graduating member will do his part in advancing the profession that he has chosen.

Henry B. Gilpin

Henry B. Gilpin was born in Baltimore, April 3rd, 1853. The son of the founder of a wholesale drug firm, Mr. Gilpin assumed the presidency of the company upon his father's death. Under his guidance, the firm prospered and grew in accordance with its history as one of the oldest of such firms in the United States. Mr. Gilpin occupied a high place in professional affairs. He was a life member of the American Pharmaceutical Association, and served as president of the Maryland Pharmaceutical Association in 1896. He was also elected as an officer in several national wholesale drug associations. Mr. Gilpin was an active socialite and in addition took an active interest in municipal affairs. He was a member of the water board, the commodore of the Baltimore Yacht Club, the president of the Athenaeum Club, and a member of the Maryland, Baltimore, and Elkridge Hunt Clubs. His death, on December 11th, 1929 left a permanent void in local and national pharmaceutical groups.

Features and Ads

This is an actual photograph of Helena, Montana, taken in 1865. It was a frontier town, populated by rough-and-ready citizens in whose veins flowed the reckless blood of pioneers. But even here, in this row of gone and forgotten buildings we see one familiar sight, the sign "Drug Store." As we look at this old picture, we are likely to smile condescendingly, in the security of our own civilization. The truth is, there are perhaps even more dangers today with our concentrated populations inviting epidemics. That is why the modern drug store, as a disease-fighting factor, is such a vital force in every community. That is why the pharmacist of today must be a man of science with a well-equipped prescription laboratory, as well as a merchant with a well-stocked store.

Alumni Smoker

The second annual Alumni Smoker took place on December 16th, 1948, at the Cadoa. It was attended by alumni, both old and new, as well as members of the faculty and students of the School of Pharmacy. This year, as inaugurated previously, the entertainment for the evening was supplied as a form of competition by the organizations and students of the school. The competition consisted of skits, quartettes, instrumental and vocal solos, monologues, chess and checker tournaments. In overall judging, Phi Delta Chi Fraternity received first prize, The Cherry Activity Cup. Alpha Zeta Omega won the second prize of $25.00, and Phi Alpha the third prize of $15.00. Charles J. Kokoski was judged the best instrumentalist for his piano renditions.

Delicious refreshments were served after the entertainment. Dr. George Hager was in charge of the entertainment, Sid Cowan was the Master of Ceremonies.

The School of Pharmacy opened its social season on December 9th, 1948, by holding its annual mixer at the Cadoa. There was a friendly intermingling of the members of the faculty, members of the various classes, and their guests. A sizeable crowd was present, including a number of alumni, and an enjoyable evening was had by all. There was dancing to the rhythmic music of Carl Hamilton's Orchestra. Refreshments were served throughout the evening.

The success of the affair was due in large measure to the efforts of Dr. Frank J. Slama, who was ably assisted by members of the Student Council.

Tri-Frat Dance

The third annual Tri-Frat Dance was held on February 5th at the Pythian Hall, and featured the music of the Debonaires. This was an open affair, and was attended by a sociable mixture of members of Alpha Zeta Omega, Phi Delta Chi, and Phi Alpha Fraternities, and their guests. The hall was arranged in a cabaret style, creating an atmosphere of friendliness which helped make the dance a huge social success. The continued success of this dance will insure its perpetuation as an annual affair.

Indianapolis Excursion

Sunday, January 30th, 1949

7:10 P.M. — "All Aboard."

9:15 P.M. — We are now pausing for 5 minutes at Harrisburg, Pa.

10:15 P.M. — Approximately 60% of our "5" minute wait obliterated.

10:30 P.M. — We are now part of a stream-lined modern train of 1 coach with front and rear exits.

10:45 P.M. — Pass out the chocolate bars to celebrate; we have moved 1/16th of an inch.

10:46 P.M. — Thief, give me back my pillow . . . We have only 48 cards, who has the 6 aces? How you, Be-Be?

11:30 P.M. — We're off! All out for the club car.

12:00 P.M. — Midnight, lights out. All is silent in the club car — Pennsylvania is dry on Sundays.

And on into the night — Up and at 'em — inspection . . . If I should die before I wake, you'll know I died of tummy-ache . . . and so to bed.

Monday, January 31st, 1949

3:00 A.M. — It's snowing.

6:00 A.M. — All out for the diner . . . Rise and shine!

9:00 A.M. — We have all eaten and are comfortably resting our worn aching bodies. We, the favored few, know the luxury of sleeping on 2 chairs with an arm rest between them.

12:30 P.M. — Here we are in Indianapolis. A few steps and lo and behold — Hotel Severin. Boys have single rooms, girls are 2 to a room. Lunch is served on the roof . . . Brrrrrr.

1:15 P.M. — Luncheon extremely tasty. Surprisingly, our genial Mr. Perry has managed to make the large roof quite homey.

2:00 P.M. — All aboard the bus for transportation to the Eli Lilly Biological Laboratories at Greenfield, Indiana . . . A short half-hour wait for a freight train with a small defect — it wouldn't run.

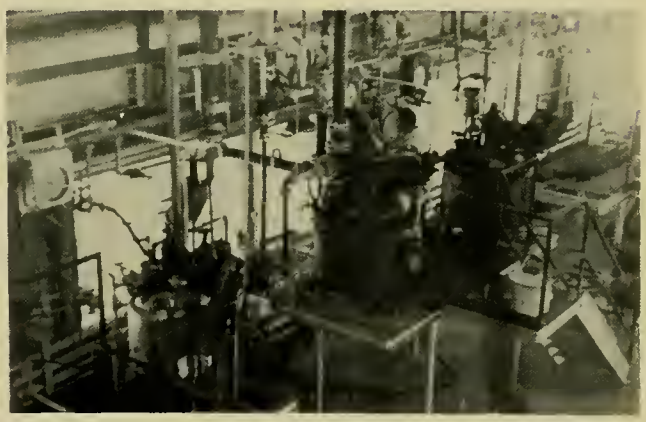
2:45 P.M. — We are inspecting the Biological Laboratories. The Pharmacy School learns of the preparation of Tr. of Green Cow.

4:45 P.M. — Once again we are boarding the bus to return to our hotel. The previous sleepless night is now heavy on our eyelids.

6:30 P.M. — Oo, la, la — such fresh, shining faces, and such pretty gardenia corsages on the girls. The banquet on the roof passes from delight to sheer heaven. But the climax of the meal is dessert — a vanilla mortar perfectly garnished with a chocolate pestle. Never has a piece of apparatus tasted so good!

7:45 P.M. — Now rested and contentedly full amid an atmosphere of friendship, we have just pushed back our chairs in order to hear an address by Mr. J. W. Lansdowne.

8:30 P.M. — Ever mindful of the necessity and desire for money, Mr. Lansdowne has given us a thoroughly inspiring speech which has labeled each individual within the range of his speaking voice a person of importance with some contribution to make to his chosen field of pharmacy. Mr. Perry made a short speech to announce the distribution of movie passes which, however, were not good for the local burlesque theatre. Said Mr. Perry, "These tickets are not good for the Fox Theatre. Besides, the show is no good, the seats are uncomfortable, the building will probably burn down any day now, but the show starts at 9:30. Also, this is a warning to the girls. Anyone who wears high heeled shoes tomorrow during the tour will live to regret it."



8:45 P.M. — And so the ambassadors of good will from the University of Maryland, School of Pharmacy, are scattering out in small groups to learn a little about this western town.

Tuesday, Feb. 1, 1949

7:15 A.M. — "Hello, operator speaking. This is 7:15"
"This is 1010, operator."
"No — 7:15"
"1010."
"No, no — 7:15"
Good grief, she means the time, not our room number.

8:00 A.M. — We are again enjoying breakfast.

8:50 A.M. — Here we are!

9:00 A.M. — We are seated in the conference room for a speech by Mr. C. F. Eveleigh, Executive Vice-President of The Eli Lilly Co.
Notes from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon. Now on the left . . . . . and here on the right . . . . . and so we viewed the ingenious machines, efficient workers and intricate arrangements.

12:00 noon — Let's go back to the conference room.

12:35 P.M. — After Mr. Nelson's interesting speech the entire group is now filing out into the sunny, crisp Indiana air toward the research building entrance. Look at the birdie, smile, click. Well, we did it. We are now recorded in a photograph. A copy of which will be given to each of us before we leave.

12:45 P.M. — We're slowly filing through the cafeteria, selecting our lunch. Even here, efficiency is conspicuous (each salt shaker contains a few grains of rice to prevent clogging).

1:30 P.M. — Once more we are assembled in groups to continue our tour of the remaining Laboratories and Pharmaceutical Departments.

2:30 P.M. — We have just entered a world of yesteryear — the quaint brick replica of the two story building. This is a magical place, down to the office stationery, bearing the date 1876, which reads, "All bills due the first of each month, without reference to date of purchase."

4:45 P.M. — Tramp, tramp, the weary visitors back to the bus for transportation to the Hotel Severin.

6:00 P.M. — We are off again, to Cifaldi's Villa Nova.

6:30 P.M. — We are being served fried chicken and vegetables, county style The Villa Nova seems to capture the atmosphere of the large, happy farm family. Mom, pass the mashed potatoes.

Wednesday, February 2, 1949

7:15 A.M. — A bell tingles, a hand grasps in the dark and a deep voice rings out "7:15." So we awaken.

8:00 A.M. — A brisk hello and we settle down to enjoy a breakfast of bacon and eggs on the roof of the Hotel Severin.

8:45 A.M. — All out for the bus to visit the Laboratories. Any students unable to stand or see clearly after the night's activities were gently led outside to the bus by our kind Mr. Perry.

6:00 A.M. — We are driving to the door. Faithfully marching behind our guides we are following thousands of feet of conveyor belts, looking up at huge tanks and listening to the roar of noisy motors. From these the people get tiny packages of penicillin and streptomycin.

11:00 A.M. — Again we hop on the bus, this time to visit the Indianapolis Speedway. Our 12-foot wide bus squeezed through the 6 foot gate and we breezed over the speedway at 20 miles per hour. Incidentally, we forgot several of our number at the plant. Oh, well, what's a few more or less?

12:15 P.M. — Back we go to the roof for lunch, a heartfelt farewell and adjournment to the lobby with our suitcases.

1:35 P.M. — We are settling down for a long ride on our rumbling coach, our stomachs full, our bodies tired and our hearts light (pathological conditions). Mr. Perry distributed our group picture, waved his hand and shouted a hearty farewell.

Echoes 'til morn — We are happy; we are inspired; we are forever indebted to the many workers and representatives of the Eli Lilly Company for a pleasant trip, a memorable tour, a wealth of knowledge and a firmer faith in the opportunity that is America.

HOW TO ENJOY A LONGER LIFE

by I. M. DYING

Follow these simple rules while going to school, and achieve health and happiness.

1. Sleep during lectures with windows open.
2. Flush the system by drinking two short ones between each class.
3. Get plenty of exercise by dancing all night at least twice a week.
4. Never go to bed before 4 A.M. The night air is good for you.
5. Never study; you may strain your eyes.
6. Keep a first aid flask in your hip pocket at all times.
7. Spend all your spare time in the pool room. The atmosphere there is stimulating to the intellect.
8. Stay away from girl friends who have fur coats; you may get tularemia.
9. Beware of all veterinarians. For treatment and professional advice consult the first line of public health defense—your soda-jerker.

FAMOUS LAST WORDS:

STUDENTS:

Pruce—"Come and Be-Boptized."

Levine—"Just get on the black-list, and you can join our fraternity, Chi Rho."

Hahn—"Did you ever hear the story of the mirror with two sides?"

Waldsachs—"I still think that I deserved more than a C."

Weinberger—"Sure I understand the results, one rat had puppies and the other one didn't."

PROFESSORS:

Allen—"No talking across the room. What do you think this is, a train?"

Hager—"What's wrong with today's pharmacists? They buy a pint for $5.00 when they can make it for 25c."

Chapman—"The professor will not meet with his classes."

(Of course you must delete several letters.)

A FRIEND

College Daze

Through four long years of college, I worked and slaved and toiled.
I was yelled at by the teachers, and kicked and cursed and foiled.
I gained a working knowledge of political relations,
Of history and chemistry and of various equations.
I cut my college eyeteeth on a slab of hieroglyphic,
(And lost some teeth at parties which were really quite terrific.
I learned of pills and lotions, of German and of French,
Of molecules and atoms—six ways to produce a stench,
Zoology, ecology, biology, posology,
Morphology, histology, and even pharmacology;
Economy, gastronomy, metonymy, astronomy,
Platonomy, autonomy, and also some isonomy.
In short, I worked and slaved myself into a mental coma;
And all for a piece of paper — but I got it — my diploma!
Now here I am a graduate, I stand with fevered brow,
And yell the college graduates' yell, "Good Lord, what do I do now?"
